ABOUT THALASSEMIA:

Thalassemia is an inherited blood disorder that causes your body to have less haemoglobin than normal. Haemoglobin enables red blood cells to carry oxygen. Thalassemia can cause anaemia, leaving you fatigued. The patients have to be done with blood transfusion on an regular intervals.

If anyone have mild thalassemia, they might not need treatment. But more severe forms might require regular blood transfusions. They can take steps to cope with fatigue, such as choosing a healthy diet and exercising regularly.

DONATION CAMP:

On 22nd Feb 2023, rotaract club of HICET organised a blood donation camp under the name of "OPERATION RED". For this camp we have joined with Swami Vivekananda blood centre. From that centre 2 doctors and 3 nurses came to our campus. They arrived at 11 am and the Principal and CEO of our institution inaugurated the camp. From the morning itself many students from various departments showed their interest to donate the blood.

Many Rotaract members were active throughout the camp and helped the doctors to carryout the session and also helped in the registration process. During the camp, our institution CEO, Dr.K.Karunakaran sir and our college principal, Dr.J.Jaya mam visited and interacted with the students and appreciated their enthusiasm.

The process involved with their registration, followed by health checking phase which included Haemoglobin level, BPE test to ascertain their fitness and then were allowed to donate their blood. Following their donation, the students were provided with refreshment and certificates to honour their act towards societal needs.

On whole, at the end we collected 100+ units of blood. The camp concluded by 5:00pm and the event was concluded successfully.

MALAMPUZHA DAM AND GARDENS

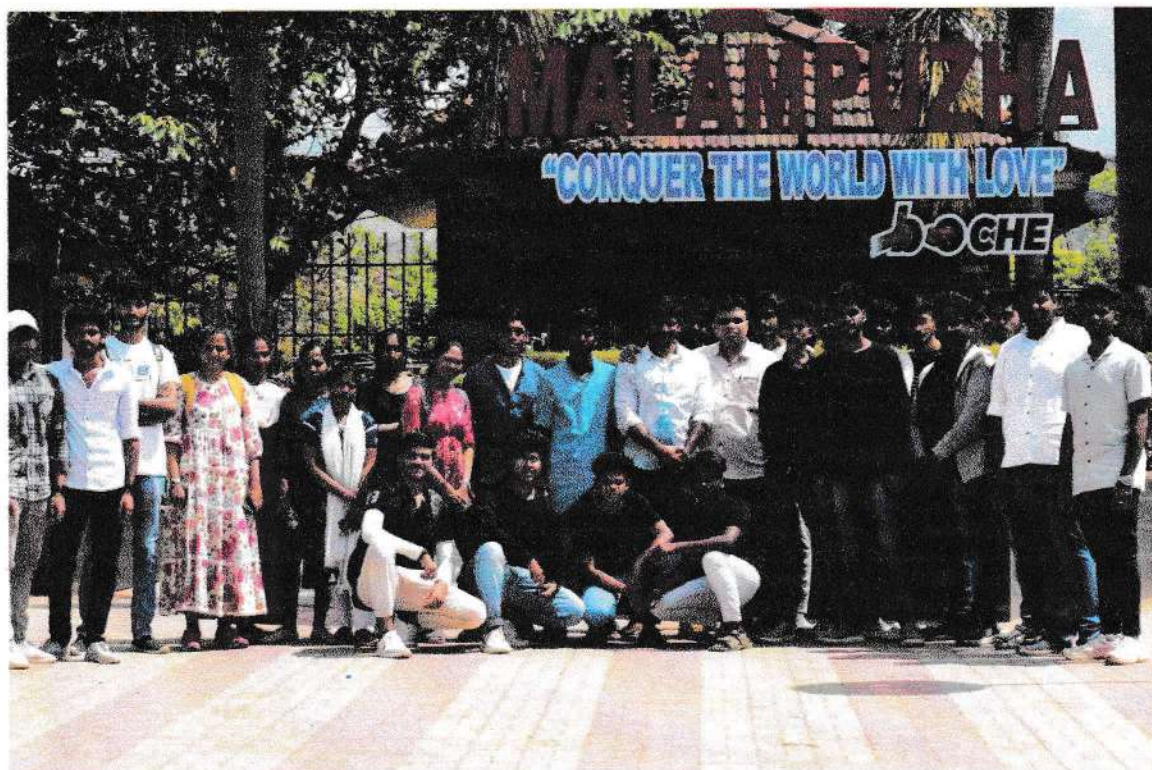

Malampuzha Dam is the second largest dam and reservoirs in Kerala, located near Palakkad, in the state of Kerala in South India, built post-independence by the then Madras state. Situated in the scenic hills of the Western Ghats in the background it is a combination of a masonry dam with a length of 1,849 metres and an earthen dam with a length of 220 metres making it the longest dam in the state. The dam is 355 feet high and crosses the Malampuzha River, a tributary of Bharathappuzha, Kerala's second longest river. There is a network of two canal systems that serve the dam's reservoir of 42,090 hectares Malampuzha Garden in Palakkad district is the only rock-cut garden in South India made by Nek Chand, the renowned artist and winner of the prestigious Padmashree Award. The entire garden is made from broken pieces of bangles, tiles, used plastic cans, tins and other waste materials. Also situated in the gardens is the massive Malampuzha Yakshi (female vampire) built in 1969 by Kanayi Kunhiraman, a greatly respected sculptor from the state. It is a spectacular relic of art that we are lucky to still have with us. The flowering beds, fountains and rose gardens along with an aerial ropeway make it a place that instantly soothes your soul.

In the lower hills of the Western Ghats lies the beautiful Malampuzha township whose lush greenery and plethora of picnic spots make it a must-visit spot in these areas. It has really good trekking trails that are available to all with a penchant for the same. Malampuzha Gardens and the Irrigation Dam tend to be the areas that attract the highest number of visitors.
